Organizations involved: BC College of Family Physicians, BC Family Doctors, BC Patient Safety & Quality Council, Divisions of Family Practice, First Nations Health Authority, General Practice Services Committee, Health Authorities, Midwives Association of BC, Ministry of Health, Nurses and Nurse Practitioners of British Columbia, Patient Voices Network, Rural Coordination Centre of BC, UBC – Innovation Support Unit.

¹According to the BC Health Quality Matrix, "quality is made up of seven dimensions. Five dimensions focus on the individual experience from a person and publication perspective: Respect, Safety, Accessibility, Appropriateness and Effectiveness. Two dimensions focus on the performance of the system in which health and wellness services are delivered: Equity and Efficiency."

²The detailed "what" will be further fleshed out in future advisory group meetings.
